

Headteacher Update Week 23

What a week!

I hope this finds you well.

Similar to 2010 we will talk about this spell of weather for years to come. What was really pleasing was seeing how staff and pupils continued to have regular communication via IT throughout the snow days. It shows you how far schools and IT has come since 2010.

Thank you to all the staff and pupils who worked hard and communicated regularly over the snow days. From online video conference lesson (outstanding maths!) to regular emails and tweets, it was a first rate effort from Alloa Academy staff and pupils.

Safe Access

Although snow has been cleared please continue to take care when walking in the carpark and pathways.

Amey have been busy making sure the school grounds are safe and I suspect the quadrangle playground at the centre of the school will remain closed on Monday. This area has yet to thaw.

S2 Parents Evening

It is S2 Parents Evening on 19 March and I want to ensure pupils have every opportunity to plan the appointments. The Clerical team will provide the booking sheets to pupils over the coming days and reminders will be sent out to families.

Snowman and Study Twitter competition.

It was great seeing pupils and staff engaging in the social media challenge. Winners of the Snowman and Study pictures will be shared on Monday. Amazon gift vouchers will go to the winner Snowman and Study pic.
